THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

PRESIDENT REPORT AUGUST

Mr. Geoffrey Cavalier, CSI,
Assoc. AIA, NCARB
CSI Knoxville Chapter President
cavaliergeoffrey@gmail.com

With the pandemic continuing, and in an effort to reduce the chance of contributing to transmission and to keep our members and their families safe, we decided to have our awards ceremony through a video call, just like our many previous meetings. The virtual ceremony went better than I expected. It was a great opportunity to give recognition to the many incredible CSI members who have volunteered countless hours for this organization. As president I get to be in the middle of almost everything that is going on. I see the work everyone is doing, the ideas that come up, and the achievements of the individuals and the group. I'm constantly proud to be part of this organization and I hope that I can contribute to it as much as these others have.

Our local CSI chapter has done an exceptional job of staying active despite the necessity to social distance. Due to the continual spread of COVID-19 it continues to be necessary to meet virtually for our meetings and events. We will continue to pay attention to the data and recommendations of health professionals so we can keep our members safe and well. I am eager for the day we can all meet together in a common, physical space, but until then I am grateful that we have the technology to meet virtually.

Mr. Geoffrey Cavalier, CSI, Assoc.
AIA, NCARB
CSI Knoxville Chapter President

CSI HIGHLIGHTS

Summary from July Planning Meeting Minutes

The board met in several Zoom Meetings to discuss CSI events and set goals for the upcoming year.

The CSI student group is organizing and is seeking speakers, site and office visits.

Planning for the October 30th Golf Tournament at Egwani Farms is underway and we are seeking more sponsors! See www.csiknoxville.org to register.

MEMBER NEWS

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Patrick Brown, CSI, ASLA
CSI Knoxville Chapter
2020-2021 Board Director
pbrown@rossfowler.com

This month's column highlights Patrick Brown, CSI, ASLA. Patrick graduated from Purdue University in 2011 where he studied landscape architecture. He moved to Knoxville in 2012 after finishing an internship with a Chicago-based landscape architecture firm and joined Ross Fowler PC. His wife, Jessica, is the director of Health and Well-Being at Marsh & McLennan.

When asked about his firm, Patrick responded, "Ross/Fowler is fortunate to work on a wide range of projects, from large public parks to streetscapes and urban spaces. I have primarily been involved with projects in the higher education sector." Patrick has also been involved with the Alcoa Highway Beautification Council who is working with TDOT and the City of Knoxville to provide landscaping along the newly widened portion of Alcoa Highway.

Patrick joined CSI in 2019. When asked what he wants to do in the chapter he replied, "I am excited to continue to network within our chapter. I appreciate that CSI members represent a wide spectrum of backgrounds from the construction industry, including architects, engineers, contractors and suppliers."

The Knoxville Chapter is happy to have Patrick Brown as part of our membership and we encourage each member to reach out and get to know him better.

AUGUST PRESENTATION SUMMARY

STRUCTURA, INC.

Shannon Yust
National Sales Manager
Structura, Inc.
shannon.yust@structura.com

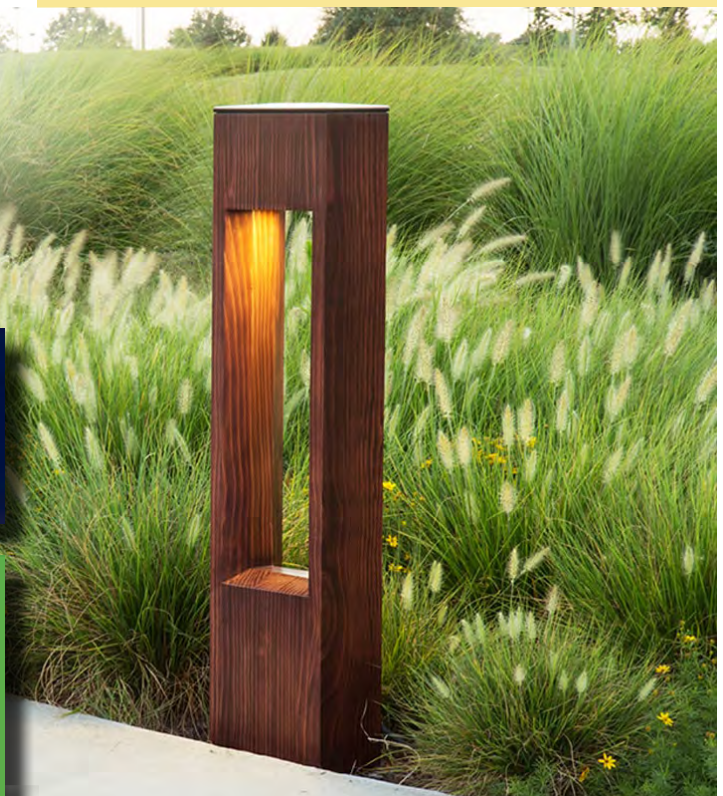

The AIA accredited presentation I can offer on Acetylated Wood for 1 learning unit through AIA is sponsored by Accsys Technologies, the manufacturer and owner of the Accoya brand. Accoya is a modified (acetylated) pine wood source that can be utilized in many different exterior applications, including decking, window framing, doors, cladding, poles, bollards and outdoor furniture. It has been altered on a molecular level enough that it takes on properties that make it resistant to decay and insect attack, and it comes with a 25-year warranty from both, even if buried in ground. See the links below for more information on installations of the product around the world. McDonald's, Applebee's, KFC and Louis Vuitton are all currently utilizing this wood on stores throughout North America.

Presented By: Shannon Kyle Yust, National Sales Manager Structura, Inc. Sponsored by Accsys Technologies, the manufacturer and owner of the Accoya brand. Accoya is a modified (acetylated) pine wood source that can be utilized in many different exterior applications, including decking, window framing, doors, cladding, poles, bollards and outdoor furniture.

Learning Objectives:

- Define the term "Acetylated Wood" and gain a basic understanding of its history.
- Learn the benefits of the acetylation process, and why it is a safe, nontoxic alternative to other materials.
- Describe how wood used in acetylated wood is a natural renewable resource and qualifies for LEED points.
- Review global projects - learn why acetylated wood is used in the historical preservation market and various other applications.

CSI and CONSTRUCT are committed to the safety and wellbeing of attendees, exhibitors, staff and CSI members. We are continuing to monitor COVID-19, specifically in the Dallas area, combined with local guidance. CONSTRUCT, an Informa Markets show, made the difficult decision to transition CONSTRUCT 2020 to a digital experience. CSI fully supports this decision.

The CONSTRUCT and CSI teams understand the importance of connecting and celebrating the architecture, engineering, and construction communities. Therefore, we are excited to offer a unique virtual event that will allow the industry to source, learn, network, gain inspiration and overcome challenges in this new environment.

The CONSTRUCT virtual event will take place October 7th – 9th, one week later than the original dates. CSI events associated with CONSTRUCT, such as the Honors and Awards Celebration and the Annual Business Meeting, are being rescheduled as well. Full details will be announced soon.

All attendees will receive a full refund, and answers to frequently asked questions are on the CONSTRUCT website.

Although the decision to transition this year's in-person event was difficult, and we will miss seeing everyone in Grapevine, we are excited about a new way to engage and interact with our industry.

We know the construction community is eager to come together face-to-face. Our reimagining of CONSTRUCT through a virtual event will offer exceptional content, the ability to source new products, learn, share ideas, and network.

Thank you for your continued understanding, patience, and support. We look forward to seeing you online in October.

CSI TECHNICAL

WHAT I LEARNED FROM CSI... FDC

MR GARY T. BERGERON, CSI
Kelso-Regen Associates, Inc.
CSI Knoxville Technical Chair
gary@kelso-regen.com

Many of us in the building design and construction industry are accustomed to observing a sign that says FDC in bold red letters, but how many of us understand how important the Fire Department Connection (FDC) is to the fire department personnel responding to the fire? This FDC is the fitting on the fire pumper truck access side of the building where the fire department connects their 2-1/2" fire hose(s) to boost water pressure to fight the fire more effectively. It is very important these FDC's are visible to the fire department when they arrive on the fire scene. FDC fittings come in several variations and appearances depending upon the NFPA classification of the sprinkler system.

An NFPA 13 sprinkler system usually requires a double fire hose connection commonly called a Siamese connection. The Siamese FDC connection often includes a nameplate that includes the words "auto spkr" to indicate the presence of a fire sprinkler system in the building. Older FDC's have a brass screw on cap with a chain to prevent vandals from stealing the caps for salvage value. Some modern FDC's include an aluminum or plastic breakaway cap instead of the brass cap. Some city fire departments now require a locking "knox box" cap to prevent vandalism of the breakaway caps and debris such as soda cans being inserted into the FDC. Some buildings incorporate a sidewalk FDC which is mounted in the sidewalk adjacent to the building instead of on the side of the building.

Some FDC's are designed to serve "dry standpipes" in parking garages. These are dry galvanized pipes with valves and firehose outlets on each floor to prevent the fire department from dragging firehoses up the stairs to fight a potential car fire. The fire truck can connect a 4" suction hose to the nearby fire hydrant and connect the 2-1/2" hoses to the dry standpipe FDC. This provides water to every floor in the parking garage via the dry standpipe.

If the fire truck has to look for the FDC on the building during a fire event, this costs valuable time and possible loss of life while locating the Fire Department Connection point. The FDC should be located between 40' and no more than 100' from the nearby pumper fire hydrant. If the fire hydrant is closer than 40', there is a danger of the burning building collapsing on the fire truck. Most pumper fire trucks carry a maximum of 100' of 4" fire hose to connect to the fire hydrant. The discharge side of the pumper truck is connected to the 2-1/2" FDC. Before the fire pumper truck provides pressure to the FDC, the Post Indicator Valve (PIV) serving the building is closed to prevent the pumper truck from pressurizing the city water main. Other fire trucks connect their 2-1/2" hoses to other fire hydrants around the building. These fire trucks drive to other firefighting points at the building with the fire hose removed from the back of the truck via accordion style folds.

If you want to know more about these systems and other design and construction issues, come to the next CSI chapter meeting to discuss them.
